

GUARANTY PERIOD FOR RAILROADS EXPIRES TUESDAY

Roads To Begin Operation On Their Own Resources.

FEW MAKE EXPENSES

Cost To Government Was Hundred Million Monthly For 6 Months

Washington, Aug. 31.—After midnight tonight the railroads of the country will begin operations on their own resources after having cost the government approximately $100,000,000 monthly for the six months in which their earnings were guaranteed by the transportation act.

The carriers will be allowed further aid from the government only through loans from the revolving fund which the act created. Earnings of the roads will fall about $600,000,000 below their standard return for the period since March 1, according to estimates by the bureau of railway economics. Fewer than half a score of lines have produced revenue sufficient to equal actual operating expenses, which does not include the fixed charges of interest, taxes and dividends. Definite figures on the cost to the government of the earnings guarantee provisions of the transportation act will not be known until the various systems are able to complete the mechanical task of balancing books and giving detailed figures.

Most all the roads, however, have indicated already to the interstate commerce commission, and through it to the treasury, that they will have money coming to them as the result of the guarantee. The treasury has received dozens of certifications for advances under the guarantee within the last 10 days, and more are expected, Secretary Houston said. If the roads do not ask for an advance against probable deficits before tonight they must wait for a final completion of the sums the government owes them.

Of the 1,194 lines of consequence in the country, 667 have accepted the government's proposal for a division of the surplus above the standard return and a guarantee of earnings should the revenues fall short. All those accepting the proposal will be entitled to a final adjustment of accounts by the treasury and the payment, where the revenues were low, of the guaranteed amounts. For the reason that the deficit has been so great, officials are preparing to give close study to the result of the recent rate increases. The interstate commerce commission estimated the increased rates would yield approximately $1,000,000,000 annually. But this sum would not be sufficient, it was argued, unless traffic comes in unprecedented volume and there is a decrease in the cost of operations.

STREET CAR FARES IN CLEVELAND TO JUMP TO 6 CENTS

Under Terms Of "Taylor Grant" Raises Must Be Made

Cleveland, O., Aug. 31.—Street car fares in Cleveland must go to 6 cents immediately, President J. J. Stanley of the Cleveland Railway company told city council last night. He stated that the interest fund would drop below $300,000 today, and that, under the terms of the "Taylor grant" fares must be automatically increased.

Street railway commissioner Sanders thinks there is still a chance to retain for a short time the present low fare. Should final reports, however, bear out the claims of the street car official, the new rate will become effective between September 15 and October 1.

BELFAST ARMED CAMP AS RIOTING CONTINUES

Twenty-one Killed 200 Wounded In Street Fighting Raging Since Last Saturday; Troops Are Called Out.

Belfast, Aug. 31.—Twenty-one persons have been killed and 200 wounded in the street fighting that has raged in this city since last Saturday evening.

Belfast is an armed camp. Machine guns have been planted to sweep the principal streets. Soldiers, fully equipped for field service are posted at all strategic points.

Desperate riots occurred during the night and this morning. Volleys were fired from revolvers and stones were hurled. As quickly as the police dispersed the rioters at one locality street fighting broke out somewhere else. Finally the troops took a hand. Soldiers with loaded rifles appeared on the scene and some semblance of order was restored.

During the night the sky was lurid with the flames of burning houses. Twenty residences were destroyed. The occupants fled. Some were attacked in their flight. Most of the ship workers are idle, roaming the streets in bands.

The first contingent of troops, rushed here from Curragh barracks, was unable to cope with the disorders and more reinforcements had to be brought up.

The fire hoses were cut and the firemen were unable to check the conflagrations.

Looters wrecked saloons seizing great quantities of whisky which was drunk on the spot. Maddened by drink the rioters fought until they collapsed in the street.

There was a steady exodus of Sinn Feiners from the city during the morning.

TREASURERS OF PARTIES TO TAKE STAND ON PROBE

Upham and Marsh Testify Before the Senate Committee.

REPUBLICANS HAPPY

Testimony Of Cummins Held As Favorable To G. O. P. Cause

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Treasurers of the Republican and Democratic national campaign committees were expected to take the stand today when the senate sub-committee resumed its investigations into receipts and disbursements of party funds. Frederick W. Upham, Republican treasurer, and Wilbur W. Marsh, custodian of the Democratic funds, both were waiting to be called. Upham it is known, has prepared a detailed statement of Republican national finances which he is prepared to lay before the committee. It is a complete refutation, Republican leaders asserted, of Governor Cox's "$15,000,000 campaign fund" charges. Marsh, it is presumed, is similarly equipped to give facts and figures concerning Democratic funds.

Republican adherents are gleeful today over the testimony given yesterday by Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic national committee. Cummings admitted that in 1916 the Democrats started out to "get as much as we could" and that postmasters and other federal authorities were solicited to contribute to the Democratic war chest. The former Democratic chairman also supported Republican Chairman Hays testimony to the extent of saying that he did not regard the budget figures submitted by Hays as executive and that he saw nothing to indicate "corruption" in any of the evidence yet presented to the committee.

UNITED STATES IS NOW IN SECOND PLACE ON OCEAN

Seagoing Tonnage Has Increased Five Hundred Per Cent.

London, Aug. 31.—According to Lloyds Register of Shipping for 1920-21, the seagoing tonnage of the United States, apart from Great Lakes shipping, has increased since 1914 by over 500 per cent and now stands at 12,406,000 tons. Thus the United States comes second only to the United Kingdom, which has 18,111,000 tons. Japan, which in 1914 took sixth place, is now third, with 2,996,000 tons, closely followed by France, with 2,963,000 tons. Including sailing ships, but excluding tonnage on the Great Lakes, the United States now owns 24 per cent of the world's tonnage, as against 4.7 per cent six years ago, the Register states.

Germany, which in 1914 occupied, after the United Kingdom, the first position, with over 5,000,000 tons of shipping, now owns only 419,000 tons.

GOVERNMENTAL RECLAMATION POLICY THE SUBJECT HARDING'S ADDRESS TO GOVERNORS

Governors Lowden and Sproul Are Visitors To Marion Tuesday To Hear Address; Gubernatorial Candidates Make Journey

Marion, O., Aug. 31.—Senator Warren G. Harding will outline his governmental reclamation policy here today to a group of governors and gubernatorial candidates from various states. The day has been designated "Governor's Day" by Republican headquarters.

The senator will address the gathering from his front porch. His speech will deal solely with internal issues, and primarily with his conception of the government's duty in reclaiming much of the arid lands of the west.

Among those who will gather about the Harding front porch today are two who were leading candidates for the nomination at the Chicago convention—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois and Governor William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania. It is the first time they have met Senator Harding since his nomination.

Others already here or scheduled to arrive are E. F. Morgan, candidate for governor of West Virginia; Arthur M. Hyde, candidate for governor of Missouri; Governor William D. Stephens of California; Governor R. L. Beekman of Rhode Island; J. A. O. Preuss, candidate for governor of Minnesota; Governor E. L. Phillips of Wisconsin; Governor Peter Norbeck of South Dakota; Governor S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska; Governor R. D. Carey of Wyoming; Governor Tom Campbell of Arizona; ex-Governor William Spry of Utah; Clarence J. Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor of Ohio; and Ely of Denver. ## PRESIDENT ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF COAL MINERS ON WALK OUT

Wilson Sends Telegram To Leaders Saying He Will Not Set Aside Majority Report Of Commission On Wage Increase.

DECLARES COUNTRY WILL ACCEPT THREAT

Calls Attention To Pledge Of Workers To Abide By Decision Of Body and Declares Honor Demands Fulfillment Of Pledge.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Approving the majority report of the anthracite coal commission, awarding anthracite miners wage increases, President Wilson notified the miners that he expected them "to accept the award and carry it into effect in good faith."

Replying to threats from the miners that they would stop work Sept. 1 unless the minority report of the commission, recommending a higher award than provided in the majority, were accepted, the president stated definitely that the majority award would not be set aside.

The majority report, signed by W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, representative of the public and chairman, and by A. L. Cornell of Scranton, Pa., representing the operators, granted wage increases of 20 and 17 per cent above the present wage scale.

The 20 per cent wage increase was awarded contract miners and the advance of 17 per cent was recommended for company miners, monthly men, miners' laborers and consideration miners.

Neal J. Ferry of McAdoo, Pa., representing the miners, whose minority report the workers in district meetings have endorsed, recommended a minimum wage of $6 a day for adult day laborers and an increase of 31 per cent for contract workers.

Wilson Accepts Challenge.

In refusing the request of the miners for acceptance of the minority report, as made in a telegram sent through their local representatives, the president directed attention to a resolution adopted by the miners in convention agreeing to accept the findings of such a commission as he appointed.

"By all the laws of honor upon which civilization rests," the president in his telegram to the miners added, "that pledge should be fulfilled. Any intimation that the anthracite mine workers will refuse to work under the award because it does not grant them all that they expected is a reflection upon the sincerity of the men who constitute the backbone of the community in which they live."

The president told the miners that if their communication was intended as a threat they could rest assured that the challenge would be accepted and that the people of the country would find some substitute fuel to tide them over "until the real sentiment of the anthracite mine workers can find expression and they are ready to abide by the obligations they have entered into."

OHIO SUGAR MEN WILL GET NO AID FROM WASHINGTON

Appeal To Government Proves Fruitless To State Dealers.

Washington, Aug. 31.—In spite of many appeals received by the department of justice from Ohio dealers in sugar, the government will give them no relief. Appeals from these dealers, sent to Senator Pomerene, were presented to the department by A. P. Black, the senator's secretary. The position of the department, however, is that sugar dealers and jobbers who loaded up and are now losing on a declining market can expect no relief.

The situation in which the Ohio grocers find themselves is told in a telegram sent to Senator Pomerene by B. E. Talbott, president of the Talbott Wholesale Grocery company, of Middleport. "The direct loss to dealers," Mr. Talbott declared, "will reach into millions, and with further uncertainties. Apparently this has been brought about by government restrictions as to margin above cost, without regard to replacement value, and is further due to newspaper articles furnished by members of the fair price commissions advising consumers not to buy."

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD NECESSARY TO SAVE MAYOR

Of Cork, At Point Of Death Tuesday.

REFUSES ALL AID

Doctors State Death Only Matter Of A Few Hours.

London, Aug. 31.—Only a blood transfusion can now save the life of Terrence McSweeney, lord mayor of Cork, who lies at death's door in Brixton jail, it was announced this morning by the prison chaplain.

"A thousand loyal friends stand ready to make the blood sacrifice but McSweeney refuses unless the British government releases him from jail unconditionally," said the chaplain.

The head doctor at the Brixton jail infirmary, after an examination of the lord mayor, said at 9:30 o'clock that he could hardly live more than a few hours unless fresh and healthy blood were injected into his body.

Crowds weave restlessly through the streets about the jail. Knots of men and women kneel in prayer.

LORD MAYOR OF CORK

Others gather in groups with ominously whispered threats of what will happen if McSweeney dies. Great numbers of policemen are on duty.

Attempts by McSweeney during the night to speak were futile. He was so weak that he could only gasp feebly. Before noon he seemed to rally momentarily and made known to his sister that he wanted "to send a message to the outside world."

In a whisper that was barely audible McSweeney, with the utmost difficulty, murmured these words: "I am determined never to compromise on any condition short of unconditional release."

The prisoner tried to continue but could not do so.

Important local fighting is in progress near Vladimir Volynski (175 miles southeast of Warsaw). In the direction of Lemberg fierce fighting ended in our favor."

Rhodes, 30, wealthy Chicago dry-goods merchant, in the seat beside her. Mrs. Jacobson, according to the police, said they were driving along a road when a roadster drew up to their car. It contained only a driver, who drew a revolver and ordered Rhodes to stop. Rhodes, she said, drew a pistol and fired at the man, who returned the shot, wounding Rhodes twice. The alleged murderer turned and fled. Mrs. Jacobson said, while she sought medical aid.

THROWN TO GROUND WHEN AUTO STRIKES WAGON ON PIKE

Otis St. John of the New Jasper pike is confined to his bed as the result of an accident several days ago when an automobile crashed into a wagon on which he was riding, and he was thrown to the ground. He sustained no broken bones, and it is believed by Dr. Davis who attended him that there are no internal injuries, but he was badly stunned and is unable to sit up.

The accident happened when Mr. St. John turned out into the road from a gravel pit on the Columbus pike after he had filled his wagon with gravel. He noticed the machine, a Studebaker touring car coming toward him at a high rate of speed, and quickly turned his horses out of the path of the machine. It struck the wagon throwing Mr. St. John from the seat. The autoist refused to give his name, and Mr. St. John was too badly stunned to secure his license number. The driver continued on his way without giving his victim any assistance.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Strengthened By Xenia Experiences.

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Xenia people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Xenia people.

Mrs. A. C. Davis, Home Ave., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have surely been fine when we have used them. My kidney trouble has been a weakness in my back and sharp pains through it. When I bent over, could hardly straighten. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I bought at Donges' Drug Store soon cured me and I haven't had any kidney trouble since, so I am sure the cure is permanent."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Davis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

AMERICAN CONGRESSMEN SHAMEFULLY INSULTED IN KOREA.

The "Japs" are, individually, nothing very big to look at, but as a nation, in the way of prowess, are "not to be sneered at." On the map, in comparison, their domain too seems insignificant, but we remember how they "whaled" great big Russia, only a few years ago.

And, as a nation, we know their spirit to be that of aggression. It is an old, old story of their gradual encroachments upon the Chinese—of their "acquirement" of valuable property and rights of their Chinese neighbor. The balance of the world has contended for the "open door" for all nations in China, but Japan's selfishness as a "grabber" has never favored this.

Her last sample of "hoggrishness" has been her gobbling of Korea. American missionaries in that country have for several years been writing home the facts. Japan so completely absorbed the Korea as to assume the government, and to set aside the language of the country, and of the post offices and schools, to force the Jap language on them, and to play tyrant generally to the native Koreans. The missionaries were very much disgusted with the arbitrary conditions forced upon the Koreans, but were helpless to better the matter.

Now an American Congressional party which is touring the Far East has been insulted in Korea. The Koreans of Seoul had planned to give the Congressmen a reception in the Y. M. C. A. building to that effect. Representative Hugh S. Hersman, of California, not knowing of the cancellation, arrived at the building, finding a number of Koreans there.

The California representative was invited to the platform to address the meeting, the committee thinking he had come for that purpose. He made a short address saying he was glad to see something of the Koreans before leaving the country. A response was delivered by a Korean. The audience was cheering when the police rushed in and stopped the meeting, requesting Representative Hersman to leave.

So the Koreans were handled roughly by the police outside the building.

Representative Hersman refused to depart until all of the Koreans present had been released. He returned to his hotel accompanied by the United States consul general, Ransford S. Miller who had gone to the Y. M. C. A. Building on hearing of the incident.

Throughout the day large crowds were gathering at the Seoul Central Railway station, but the streets were cleared by the Japs before the arrival of the American party. The police patrol was extended to the hotel where the party was stopping and no Koreans appeared. The police cordon was so tight that the Congressional foreigners were obliged to make a long detour in order to reach the station.

If Consul Miller does not make a ringing protest of this insulting incident to our government, we would say there is not much Americanism about him.

THE AUTO PERIL.

Let's rise, O footsore readers, and form a union strong, to punish all the speeders who rush their cars along; with terrors dire they fill us, they make us weak and pale; they try to maim or kill us, and grumble when they fail. The streets are scenes of anger, where speed laws won't stay put, and heaven help the stranger who tries to cross on foot. Some reckless, bonehead driver will promptly climb his frame, and will not care a stiver how many more he'll maim. Oh, every night I wonder, when I retire to bed, that I'm not torn asunder, that I still have my head. For all the day I'm dodging death cars propelled by fools, and when I reach my lodging the sweat drips down in pools. I count my legs and knuckles, my wishbones and my hair, my garters and my buckles, to see if I'm all there; and if there's nothing busted I feel that I'm in luck, for I've been chased, disgusted, by auto, ford and truck. It's surely time to punish with more than paltry fines those reckless guys and Hunnish who try to break our spines, who always look for chances to wing the passing gent, and fill the ambulances with victims, boneyard bent.

Is It Yours

CALIGULA
August 31, 12 A. D.

Caligula, one of the most unpopular of the Roman emperors, was so named because when he was a small boy he lived in the soldiers' camps and wore boots, such as the soldiers themselves wore. The boots were called "caligula," and the nickname was applied by the Roman soldiers as a sign of affection for the boy.

His real name was Gaius Caesar. He was the son of the Emperor Germanicus and Agrippina, and was born at Antium. He was brought up in camp with his father's soldiers. After Germanicus' death he returned to Rome to win the favor of the new Emperor, Tiberius. On his death (possibly hastened by Caligula) he was declared heir to the throne. For a few months he was an ideal monarch and Rome rejoiced at having him.

Then he was taken very ill and when he recovered he was a different man. The truth probably was that his illness had affected his brain. He became one of the worst tyrants that ever ruled Rome.

But he became also one of the most imaginative tyrants. He honored his favorite horse above all his friends by making him a consul. He led his legions to the coast to invade Britain then ordered them to pick up shells from the shore as trophies of the ocean. He built the famous "floating gardens" and he had divine honors paid him.

He was murdered when he was 29 years old. It seems to have been a fortunate thing for the Roman empire.

Old Pal Pete:

This is a P.S. to the letter I wrote you on the buzzing Limited. Kid, for a fact, I'm hitting 13 on making up Camel advertisements. And, I'll say it right here! Better, give us the lights!

Just skimmed another swell Camel fact! Stop this: Guess I've smoked a million Camels! Pete, they never tired my taste yet!!!! And, old socks, put Camels to the test! Then you'll wise up that Camels leave no unpleasant cigarette aftertaste nor unpleasant cigarette odor!

That's some smoke news, I'll say, when you been trying to fuas the "straight" brands! And, old shoe, you ought to know, they gave you a lacing!

What makes a dent on my disposition is that while Camels are the mildest cigarette and the mellowest cigarette any man can buy they've got all the "body" you ever heard tell of!

Why Pete, I've got as many new selling ideas about Camels as there are hairs on a purr-kitty's tail!

Drop your old lamps down here—how's that for blazing the joy Camels pass out!

Me for more of 'em

Shorty—the Camel kid!

COUNTY INSTITUTE OPENS AT M'KINLEY BUILDING MONDAY

The Greene County Teachers' Institute opened in McKinley Auditorium with a large attendance Monday morning.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett conducted the devotional exercises, taking as the lesson for the day the twelfth chapter of Romans.

J. F. Marsh, Secretary of the State Board of Education of West Virginia was then introduced by the president of the association.

Mr. Marsh delivered the first one of a series of lectures on "Teaching as Salesmanship." The first point in Salesmanship is know your customer, he said.

Four things the teacher must know with reference to his pupils: 1. Boys and girls are products of the development of the race. 2. He must remember their traits are inherited from their forefathers. 3. He must know their environment. 4. He must recognize the importance of the senses in their development.

After a short intermission the teachers listened to an address by J. M. Matheny, Boy Specialist, of Indianapolis. Two points were emphasized in this address—the sacredness of teaching, as the greatest work on God's earth and the sacredness of child life.

Mr. Matheny made a strong plea on behalf of the so-called bad boy. "A teacher who has to slap a boy or kick him down stairs is not fit to be in a school room," he said.

Teaching is an inspiring process, lifting the child to a higher plane. Environment is the cause of ninety-nine percent of the child criminals.

The afternoon session was opened with a vocal duet by Miss Lucile Johnson and Dorothy Oglesbee accompanied by Miss Helen Oglesbee, all of Cedarville. Mr. McCullough rendered a solo which received a most hearty encore.

Mr. Marsh continued the subject of teaching as salesmanship treating specially of the teaching of English. Reces was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Effa Stroup, accompanied by Miss Louise Bone. Miss Stroup responded to the encore, both numbers being thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. Matheny delivered the last lecture of the day on "The Heart of a Boy and Five Keys that Unlock It." These five keys were given as love, sympathy, confidence, trust and companionship. Mr. Matheny gave striking examples from his own experience, showing how boys had been saved by the use of these means.

The superintendents then met in conference with the teachers of their respective townships which closed the day for the teachers.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY ADVISED FOR HAY FEVER

Anyone Can Make a Pint of Trifling Sum and Used in Time May Prevent Annual Attack.

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be.

"No matter how distressing or humiliating.

"Its intensity can be reduced to a harmless mildness," says a Kentucky druggist, who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unquarable cases of Hay and Rose fever reduced to what might be called a Mild Cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack, the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and snuff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcline in three-quarter-ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

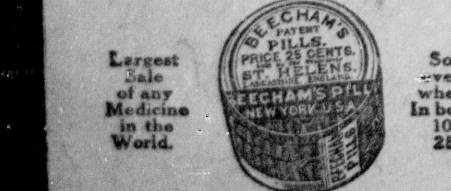

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

TONY GOES HOME WITH ZENA

Chapter 104

"Where is home?" Tony asked finally releasing my hand.

"Quite a long way from here. This car goes to within a couple of blocks 'Come on!' and before I realized his intention, Tony had stopped the car and holding my elbow had propelled me upon the sidewalk. I had to laugh it was done so quickly and so efficiently.

He hailed a taxi.

"Now get in and tell me where you live," he said with a grin.

"You think you are terribly clever," I responded to his mood. "Still the same old Tony, aren't you?" I gave him the address. "You will be horribly shocked. I live in a very unfashionable neighborhood, in a cheap rooming house." I might as well get it over with at once I knew.

"All right! We'll ride a little first and I'll inspect this mansion you speak of—inside and out if you will let me."

We had ridden a little ways, Tony had asked after Mother, had told me something of the old set when suddenly he turned to me and asked in the same old ingratiating way I remembered so well.

"Aren't you glad to see me, Zena?"

"You know I am, Tony?" I replied and I meant it. I should have answered very differently had he asked me that question, had I run across him before I commence to work for Mr. Claxton. I was a totally different girl as far as my own inward feelings were concerned since I had found my present position. My self-respect was restored. It was no crime to be poor—but I had felt before that I was also a failure. And in my eyes that was almost a crime under the circumstances.

We rode for an hour then he gave Mrs. Fagins address to the driver. As we neared the house, he said:

"I'll wait while you powder your nose, then we'll go out to dinner."

"But Tony—"

"I'll not be refused. I'll camp on your doorstep until you have to come out to keep me from being arrested unless you say you'll be ready in 20 minutes. That's time enough for a girl as pretty as you are to primp in."

"All right! I'll go," I ushered the fastidious Tony into the parlor—that awful rooming house parlor that always gave me a cold shuddery feeling and that was more unattractive even than the rest of the house.

I smiled to myself—a little bitterly—as I thought of the immaculate Tony sitting on one of the faded chairs looking at the family photograph album which decorated the center table and in which reposed pictures of the departed Fagins as well as most of the boarders. Mrs. Fagin invariably asked each boarder or roomer for a picture to increase this collection. I had promised her one of my own some day—I was thankful I had not yet had one taken.

I called to Mary. Fortunately she was at home. Tony had kept me out later than usual and she said she had commenced to fear I had met with some sort of accident.

"Help me dress, dear. I am going out with one of the boys from New York. One I used to know."

While I changed I answered all Mary's questions as to how and where I met him, and so forth. I donned a dress I had not worn save once or twice—a little plain blue crepe that had been made so plainly that it was still fairly good style.

"You are prettier than any of them ladies with the bare backs we saw at the theater!" Mary said when I was ready to go down to Tony. I insisted that she go and meet him.

"I want you to know my very best friend in Chicago," I said after I had formally introduced them. "I might say, in the world," I added.

"She is fortunate to be your friend Zena. You would have had many more—all the old ones—had you not hidden yourself from us." Then to Mary: "I hope before I return to New York I may have the pleasure of taking you and Zena out for the evening Miss Murphy."

His gallant speech delighted Mary and she accepted at once.

"If Zena says so, she added quaintly.
